EARN A DEGREE ACCREDITED IN AUSTRIA AND THE U.S.

PhD in Cognitive Science / This research-intensive, multidisciplinary program provides specialized knowledge in the fields of social cognition, cognitive development as well as formal and biological models of perception and learning. You will receive regular supervision and practical research training in our labs, from experimental design to data analysis. You will also have the opportunity to join research groups and work closely together with faculty members. → cognitivescience.ceu.edu/phd-program

Our department runs several research projects funded by the European Research Council in state-of-the-art research facilities. We have dedicated testing space, equipped for testing infants, children and adults, with eye and motion tracking, musical instruments, EEG and NIRS. We offer numerous opportunities for networking and collaboration. Our vibrant, multicultural community hosts weekly colloquium talks as well as regular conferences and workshops to exchange ideas and network with fellow researchers.
